Dr. Winckler, who is a professor of ELECTING THE BLACK POPE history and Assyriology in the University of Berlin, headed an expedition sent out last summer by the German Oriental Society. The ruins of the ancient city of Father Pardow Tells How General of Piterium were reached, and what is generally regarded as the archives of the ancient Hittite empire were discovered. The ruins of three buildings, usually regarded as fortresses, lie outside the ancient city, and in the greater one of these, now believed to be the remains of the palace. Dr. Winckler found the fragments of clay tablets.
